Conclusion [Researcher's perspective]

As mentioned above, the SAC deliberately conducted shelling in civilian areas. They fired mortar shells because they wanted to harm villagers' livelihood, as villagers cannot work well due to the shelling. Due to the SAC's shelling, thousands of local villagers in Kyeh Htoh Township have fled from their homes and they have faced difficulty in accessing food and shelter. Apart from limited job opportunities and an increase in commodity prices, [another aspect impacting villagers is how] the SAC has limited the transportation of food in the area. Due to this situation, local villagers have faced many challenges in their daily lives.
